March, they say, comes in like a lion and out like a lamb. Indicating, I suppose, that the weather starts out wintry, wild and roaring then ends up warm and gentle.

This year April comes in with Lent and out with Easter. We begin the month with the purple, meditative fourth week of Lent and we exit the month with the white light and joy of the second week of Easter. Just as the weather turns from wild to mild in March, this April in the church we turn from solemnness to celebration.

But we always know, especially here in the Chicagoland area, that even though March has passed, its wintry lion can still roar. We have had that random snowstorm in April. Yes, it is spring, but we don't put the shovels away just yet.

Similarly, while we celebrate the joy of our Lord's resurrection, we do not forget or put away the sacrifice that He made on our behalf. After all, there cannot be a resurrection without there first being a death. In fact, the only reason we can celebrate with joy and thanksgiving is because of what He did on the cross. It was there that the battle was fought and the price was paid.

Our Easter celebration here at Trinity is always more than just a one day event. It begins on the 13th of this month, Palm Sunday, the beginning of Holy Week. On this day we honor Christ's entry into Jerusalem. The crowds welcomed Him with songs of praise and by laying palm leaves on the path before Him. So, we celebrate with songs and palm branches too. Yet, while there is joy at our Lord's arrival, it is bittersweet. The religious leaders of the city, who had been working against Jesus since He began His ministry, were now at their most desperate. They would gather false witnesses and turn the crowds against Him.

Holy Week continues with Maundy Thursday. The name comes from the Latin Word "mandatum," which means "mandate" or "command." John 13:34 records Jesus telling His disciples that evening in the upper room, "A new commandment I give unto you, That you love one another; as I have loved you." The center of our Maundy Thursday worship is the Lord's Supper. That evening, the night on which He was betrayed, our Lord instituted this Sacrament. Through His body and blood, given to us by means of bread and wine, our Lord is truly present as He touches us with the gifts He won on the cross; forgiveness, life and salvation.

Our Maundy Thursday worship service concludes after this holy meal. The altar and the sanctuary are cleared as a reminder of what lay ahead for our Lord. After He left the upper room, He would go to the garden to pray and be turned over to the soldiers. So we leave church Thursday evening in contemplative silence.

We gather together again on Good Friday, the day of our Lord's death. Our worship picks up where it left off the evening before, beginning in silence. Most scholars believe that the term "Good" comes from the phrase "God's Friday." It may seem odd to call this day "good," but for sinners like us, it truly is. Because on this day our Lord fought the battle and died the death we deserve. We will read the Scriptural account of our Lord's Passion and we will extinguish the candles as we approach His death. This is why the service is traditionally known as "Tenebrae," the Latin word for "darkness."

At the close of the service, after all the candles but the Christ candle, have been extinguished, the remaining lights will go out and finally the Christ Candle will be extinguished. This is to signify the darkness of death. There will then sound the "strepitus," or "loud noise," signifying the earth shaking and the rocks splitting at Jesus' death. After a few moments of silence, the Christ candle is relit, demonstrating our Lord's victory over death. Darkness cannot keep its hold on Him! The lights of the sanctuary are turned on and the congregation leaves in silence, anticipating the joyous Resurrection that is to follow on Easter morning.

Easter morning shouts the joy and light of the Resurrection! The tomb is empty! The light shines! Christ is risen! He is risen, indeed! Alleluia! Sin, death and the devil have been conquered! Christ has won the battle for us! Now He comes in triumph! Now we sing, "Easter triumph, Easter joy! This alone can sin destroy; From sin's power, Lord, set us free, Newborn souls in you to be. Alleluia!"

March came in like a lion and out like a lamb. April this year, comes in with Lent and exits with Easter. May this be a most joyous time of meditation and celebration.

April Newsletter Article

“Blessed shall you be in the city, and blessed shall you be in the field. Blessed shall be the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground and the fruit of your cattle, the increase of your herds and the young of your flock. Blessed shall be your basket and your kneading bowl. Blessed shall you be when you come in, and blessed shall you be when you go out” (Deut 28:3-6).

This is God’s promise to the Israelites as they stood beyond the Jordan outside of the Promised Land. He promises blessing to His people. He will make them prosper, whether they are in the city or the field. He will make their fruit of their work to prosper, whether from the ground or their wombs, their flocks or their herds. He will make them to prosper in all things, whether upon their coming in or their going out.

But there’s a catch. He would do this for Israel only “if you obey the voice of the Lord your God” (Deut 28:2b). If they did that, He would cause that “all these blessings shall come upon you and overtake you” (Deut 28:2a).

If they didn’t obey the voice of the Lord, if they didn’t keep the commandments of the Lord and walk in His ways (Deut 28:9), they would be met with curse and woe. The blessings would be replaced with curses. Everything that the Lord promised to prosper and bless would be cursed and fail.

Thanks be to God that our Lord Jesus Christ has come into our flesh, fulfilled the law for us – in our place and for our benefit; died for us – in our place and for our benefit; and is risen from the dead for us – in our place and for our benefit.

By this we have justification before God. We are forgiven, clean, holy, and righteous. The blessing of God is promised to us in Christ Jesus. It depends upon His work and not ours.

All this is ours in Holy Baptism. For in Holy Baptism, God claims us as His own, makes us His children, His heirs, His holy people. And so it is that the work of our hands and its fruit is holy because we are holy in Christ. It is pressed into His service, and thereby it becomes a blessing to us and to our neighbor.

For this great gift, our reception of the blessings of God because of Christ Jesus our Lord, it is our duty to thank and praise, serve and obey Him. This is not in order to receive blessings but because in Christ we already have.

It is with this in mind that we sit down on the first day of the week and set aside as He has prospered us to give to His church for His work of blessing in our midst (1 Cor. 16:2).

Youth at Heart had a great time in March at movie night:

The Forge tells the story of Isaiah Wright, a 19 year old who lives for basketball and video games. A year out of high school, he still has no job, no plans, and no idea how to be a man. At odds with his single mom, Cynthia, Isaiah is given an ultimatum - to step up or move out. Feeling the pull from his friends and the push from his mom, Isaiah is hired by Moore Fitness, but has no idea how the owner will personally impact his life. With the prayers of his mother and unexpected guidance from his new mentor, Isaiah is forced to deal with his past, sacrifice his selfishness and discover how God might have a greater purpose for his life.

Please contact Tracy Kotke if you would like to attend

New resource alert! Posted to the LCMS website in late 2024, the 8-page document entitled "Exploring International Mission Trips: A Guide for Congregations" answers age-old questions like

- Why should my congregation consider sending an international mission team?
- What kinds of international mission trips are available?
- What do we do? What do you do?
- How do we know who should go on the team?
- How do we get support for this project?
- What does the timeline look like from when we first decide to do a mission trip until we get home?

What to Expect When You're Not Expecting

A coworker told me once that my job is essentially "expectation management": preparing volunteers adequately so they aren't taken aback by the reality of serving internationally. If they expect to sleep on tile floors with no electricity, bunk beds and A/C will seem like the Ritz Carlton. If they expect the Ritz Carlton, they'll shudder at the thought of flipping a switch to get hot water.

I can relate to shifting expectations. While visiting my brother's family in Charleston, SC, in 2023, we went shark tooth hunting one day. Judging by a couple of Instagrammers, we expected to find molar-sized specimens you'd see on a puca shell necklace in a beachy souvenir shop strewn everywhere. Our hopes were quickly dashed. Not long after, my nephew claimed he'd hit the jackpot—the remnants of a previous beachcomber's abandoned hunt. We were positive he was crying wolf, but alas, he'd stumbled across a small pile of shark teeth on a rocky outcropping. Teeny, tiny shark teeth. We resumed our quest with a more realistic expectation of what we were looking for and soon began to easily spot distinctive black shapes among broken shell fragments.

We have a God who beckons us to adjust our expectations: not to look for itty bitty shark teeth instead of social media-worthy samples, but rather the opposite. His power and majesty are far more astounding than our feeble minds can grasp. Paul concludes Ephesians 3 (vv. 20-21) with this doxology:

Now to him who is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, according to the power at work within us, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, forever and ever. Amen.

God commands and invites us to pray, then answers in astonishing ways. He desires that we meditate on His Word, then blows our minds with insights from God-breathed texts. Perhaps most inconceivable of all despite generations of prophecy are the cross and empty tomb. My sinful self doesn't expect or deserve to be saved by grace, but I look forward with eager expectation to glorying in Christ Jesus forever and ever because I am.

It's All Good in the Hood

Cerro Alto (my neighborhood) has a neighborhood association! Regional Business Manager Stan recently asked me to accompany him to a town hall meeting; I came away pleasantly surprised by the experience. The circle meets every other Monday at 8 pm in an open-air facility contained within a local park, and 8 pm means 8 pm—NOT island time. There were perhaps half a dozen people in addition to us, mostly members of the board. After opening with prayer—including for the Pope—the secretary invited us, the guests, to state our piece. Everyone else listened attentively, sympathized, and assured us they'd take immediate action. When it was time to move on, we were given the option to stay for the rest of the agenda or leave (we left). What an honor to represent the LCMS missionary community—proud renters of 11 homes and 9 apartments—in the public sector. Maybe next time I'll bring treats!

Quote of the Month

"Fruit is always the miraculous, the created; it is never the result of willing, but always a growth. The fruit of the Spirit is a gift of God, and only He can produce it. They who bear it know as little about it as the tree knows of its fruit. They know only the power of Him on whom their life depends."
